Key 2024 Highlights

Neuronetics and Greenbrook TMS Transaction Closed

Effective as of December 9, 2024, Neuronetics successfully completed its acquisition of Greenbrook TMS Inc., creating a transformative combination in mental health therapy delivery. The transaction united Neuronetics' NeuroStar technology platform with Greenbrook's network of over 95 treatment clinics across the United States. The integration planning teams have already made significant progress in implementing strategic initiatives aimed at driving profitable growth and recognizing operational cost synergies.

Better Me Provider Program Launched, Enhancing Patient Care and Accessibility

In July 2024, the Company announced the national launch of its Better Me Provider (BMP) program, setting new industry standards for patient care and responsiveness in mental health treatment. The program, developed in collaboration with TMS medical experts, has shown strong results. Participating practices demonstrated up to 3 times faster 24-hour follow-ups and a 2.5x reduction in time from initial patient interest to motor threshold determination. With over 350 active sites and over 125 more committed to joining, the BMP program represents a major step in Neuronetics' strategy to improve accessibility of NeuroStar TMS Therapy for millions suffering from MDD, OCD, and anxious depression.

FDA Clearance as a First-Line Add-On Treatment for Adolescents with Depression

In March 2024, Neuronetics received U.S. Food and Drug Administration ("FDA") clearance for its NeuroStar Advanced Therapy as the first and only transcranial magnetic stimulation ("TMS") treatment cleared as a first line, adjunct for major depressive disorder ("MDD") in adolescents aged 15-21. The FDA clearance was supported by real-world data from the Company's TrakStar database showing 78% of adolescent patients treated with NeuroStar achieved clinically meaningful improvement in their depression severity. This clearance opened up a new treatment option for the large adolescent MDD patient population that had extremely limited FDA-approved treatment options available previously. With the addition of the adolescent indication, Neuronetics' total addressable market for MDD increased by approximately 35% to 29.3 million patients.

Non-GAAP Financial Measures (Unaudited)

Neuronetics Adjusted Pro Forma Revenue is not a measure of financial performance under generally accepted accounting principles in the U.S. ("GAAP"), and should not be construed as a substitute for, or superior to, GAAP revenue. However, management uses both the GAAP and non-GAAP financial measures internally to evaluate and manage the Company's operations and to better understand its business. Further, management believes that the addition of the non-GAAP financial measure provides meaningful supplementary information to, and facilitates analysis by, investors in evaluating the Company's financial performance, results of operations and trends. The Company's calculation of Neuronetics Adjusted Pro Forma Revenue may not be comparable to similarly designated measures reported by other companies, because companies and investors may differ as to what type of events warrant adjustment.
